

Thomas Brown, D.O. graduated from Rowan University in 1983 and then attended Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine from 1983 to 1987. He completed a Family Medicine residency at the Pensacola Naval Hospital in Pensacola, Florida. He is board certified by the American Osteopathic Board of Family Medicine and has a Certified Additional Qualification in Sports Medicine. He currently is an Assistant Clinical Professor in the Department of Sports Medicine at the Kiran Patel College of Osteopathic Medicine and the Team Physician for Nova Southeastern University in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. His interests are in pediatric musculoskeletal injuries and in obesity medicine. Dr. Brown completed 20 years of military service, serving in both the Marines and Navy. He completed Flight Surgeon and Hyperbaric Officer training. He completed tours in Desert Storm and Operation Enduring Freedom and was the Senior Medical Officer on the USS John F Kennedy from 2000-2002.