Gregory Schwaid earned his undergraduate and masters' degrees right down the road in Tampa, at the University of South Florida. He then attended medical school at the LECOM campus in Bradenton. He is board certified in both preventive and occupational medicine. From 2021 – 2023, he was contracted to serve as the physician for Tampa Fire Rescue, performing annual firefighter wellness exams.